◆ How to pay Superannuation contributions to Superestate

All employers are required to lodge superannuation payments through an approved Clearing House. If you have questions regarding this, please contact us at hello@superestate.com.au or on 1300 519 800. The Australian Government Small Business Superannuation Clearing House is a free service open to small businesses with less than 20 employees. Small businesses can now register for the service online. Details on how to register can be found at <https://www.ato.gov.au/business/super-for-employers/paying-super-contributions/small-business-superannuation-clearing-house/> or by calling 1300 660 048.

Compliance Statement: Superestate is a complying resident and registered super fund and can accept all types of super contributions within the meaning of the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993. Choice of fund legislation allows that this form can be used by an employee to nominate their chosen fund instead of the Standard Choice Form issued by the Australian Tax Office.

If you don't meet your obligations, including paying your employee superannuation contribution to the correct fund, you may face penalties. Employers are also required to keep the completed form for their own record for five years.
